The competitive landscape in the healthcare industry has accelerated to new heights as we continue to move into the 21st century. Shrinking reimbursements, consolidations, shortages of personnel, and the further migration into ambulatory care as a means of services delivery are but a few of the challenges that HR professionals face. As HR professionals we must confront these challenges and be a part of the solution so that our organizations will not only survive but also thrive in the future.

These issues as well as others will be discussed with three top HR professionals in New York City:

*Thomas Ferguson, Senior Vice President and Chief Human Resources Officer,
New York Presbyterian Hospital*

Elliott Kellman, Senior Vice President, Human Resources, Montefiore Medical Center

Jane Maksoud, Senior Vice President, The Mount Sinai Medical Center, Human Resources and Labor Relations

Moderator: Ken Kruger, President and CEO, Healthcare Human Resources Consulting, LLC
President of Executive HealthSearch, Inc.
